The Collingwood line of screw steamships—one every day, from Bousman's dock, foot of East Water st., connecting at Collingwood with cars from the East.

FOR BUFFALO.

Screw steamers, with good accommodations for passengers, leave the different transportation docks every day for Buffalo.

FOR PORT WASHINGTON, &C.

The Steamer Gazelle leaves Johnson & Olmsted's Dock at 8 o'clock in the morning, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR CHICAGO, &C.

The steamer Traveller leaves Johnson & Olmsted's Dock every evening, at 9 o'clock, for Chicago and intermediate ports.

Going to Hold Over.

In view of the strong probability that the "Black Republicans" will elect their candidate for President, next fall, the Washington States, the especial organ of Senator DOUGLAS, at the Federal Capital, offers the following seasonable suggestion to the present Heads of Departments:

A sentiment is beginning to develop itself in the slaveholding States which, if we mistake not the signs of the times, will soon be heard in Washington, demanding of Howell Cobb, John B. Floyd, Jacob Thompson and Joseph Holt, an answer, whether they are prepared to surrender the purse, the sword, and the navy, to Sewardism in case of its consolidation, on the 4th of March, 1861.

We are anxious to know how Messrs. COBB, FLOYD, THOMPSON and HOLT can help themselves; or by what process the "slave-holding States" propose to keep "the purse, the sword and the navy," in case the PEOPLE of the United States see fit to elect WILLIAM H. SEWARD President in 1860.

WHO STOLE THAT COAT.—We have an account to settle with some of our editorial brethren who occupied Room No. 40 (owin-ous number) in the Newhall House during the editorial convention. We want to know which one of them hooked and carried off that coat which we left there for safe keeping? March up to the rack gentlemen, and answer as we call the roll.

Sam. Ryan, Appleton Crescent.
E. A. Calkins, Mad. Argus.
Van B. Smead, Fond du Lac Press.
T. F. Strong, Jr., do
L. H. Drury, Green Lake Democrat.
R. L. Gove, Ozaukee Times.

It was a new linen coat, and would fit any one of the above named except, perhaps, Smead and Drury. We do not propose to except either of these, however, as they occupied the room, and we don't suppose that they would be particular about the fit of the coat. Come, own up.—Green Bay Advocate, July 21.

The editor of the Advocate got off pretty cheaply. How could his Democratic roommates resist the propensity to steal, considering the number of the room into which they were incautiously put? We marvel that Col. ROBINSON, who never belonged to the "Forty," trusted himself in such a room and such a crowd.

WHO SHALL DECIDE WHEN DOCTOR DISAGREES.—"Our Elijah Program," the Hon. Chas. H. Lorraber, says that Gov. Case' Le Clere letter is all right. Hon. Wise, of Virginia, says it is "an abandonment of one of the most precious American doctrines ever established by our patriots for a free people."—Madison Journal.

On which side of the question does the News stand? Does it agree with Judge LARRABEE, or with Governor WISE?

Melancholy Suicide from Want.

We do not remember to have read a more melancholy and affecting tale than that told in the evidence of the wife of JAMES ESTLEY, an old soldier who committed suicide at Toronto, on June 24, from want, and the horror of hearing his little children cry for the bread he could not earn for them:

Mary Jane Estley deposed: I am the wife of deceased. My husband has been out of employment better than two years, during which time he has earned nothing worth speaking of. He lived nine years with Mr. Holdsworth. But the latter died and left my husband not a copper. I have three children, and since that period I have had to support the family with my needle. I did not observe anything particular in my husband's conduct of late. He sought employment every day, but without success. This morning he left the house after breakfast, to look for work; but finding none, he returned at twelve. In reply to me he said he had heard of nothing and did not know what to turn to. I said, "Never mind—the Lord is good. Your may get work from Jaques & Hay during the week." He said he might. The children then began to cry for bread, and he said "God help you, children; I don't know what you'll do." Then he sat down and remained sitting at the end of the table, with both hands under his head, after which he got up, put on his coat and went out. In a few minutes he returned with the gun in his hand, and went into the bed-room. I said, "James, what are you going to do?" He replied that he was going to the Island to shoot. He then shut himself in—I being busy at the wash tub. I heard him, as I thought, clearing out the gun for his trip,but took no notice of it.

Subsequently he passed through the kitchen to the back door, where he washed his hands. Meeting one of the children, he stooped down and kissed it, saying, "God bless you dear," after which he passed into the bed room and shut the door tight. Feeling uneasy then, I went to the door and tried to push it in. Not succeeding, I opened the front door and ran to the window to see what he was doing. I saw him standing near the door, with one foot on a chair. I did not see the gun in his hand—but my heart misgave me—the sight left my eyes, and I ran to Mrs. Douglas shouting "murder." I told her to run in for God's sake—that something was the matter with James. Just as we got to the window of my house we heard the shot. Running into the house, and opening the door, I saw him lying on the floor, apparently dead. I never had any reason to suspect his committing suicide. He was low spirited on account of his misfortunes. One after another we had to sell nearly everything in the house to procure food, and to-day there was not a morsel of food in the house, nor were there any means of procuring it. I can attribute the act to nothing else than his desperate state of mind from the destitute position I was in his family. I think he served ten years in the 82d Regiment, leaving them in Kingston, C. W., shortly after which he got into Mr. Holdsworth's employment. He was between forty and fifty years old.

CROPS.—The past week of warm weather has carried the cross rapidly towards maturity, the fine shower on Wednesday night of last week having prevented any disastrous effect from the extreme heat of the sun. Winter wheat, we are much gratified to learn, is now entirely cut, and proves to be, except where killed outright by the spring frosts, a splendid crop, the finest realized in many years. Spring wheat, which will be ready to cut in a very few days, was never known to look better, and we hope next week to chronicle a successful harvest of this most valuable crop, literally the hope of Wisconsin. A few more days of fine weather, and Sauk County will be able to hold her head as high as ever. All other staple crops, without exception, look well.—Baraboo Republic, July 21.

AT THE GAMBRINUS FEAST, on Tuesday, for the benefit of the German English Schools, in Newark, 100 barrels of beer, equal to 400 kegs or 3000 gallons, were sold on the ground during a period of six hours. The amount received from the sale of beer and admission to the grounds was about $2,700.

The Negro Insurrection in Venezuela.

From the Boston Traveller.

We have before stated that on the 17th of June an outbreak of Negroes occurred in the vicinity of Porto Cabello, Venezuela, accompanied by horrible atrocities. This outbreak can have no political object, for the negroes of that country now number only about 50,000 out of 1,500,000 population. They may have been, however, induced by those hostile to the existing government to rise in insurrection, and it is possible that they receive aid and comfort from the mixed races of that country, numbering nearly half a million, while those of Spanish American birth amount to about 300,000.

The following is an extract of a letter received in this city, dated Porto Cabello, July 1st:

"We are sorry to say that in regard to political affairs the country is worse off than before. A party of revolutionists (negroes,) broke into town on the 17th ult., at night, and were only repulsed after a fight of an hour's time, the commander of the forces not having a sufficient number of troops to sally out and destroy them entirely. They, of course, again assembled in our neighborhood, and were constantly menacing the town with another visit. This puts business at a complete stand still."

Another letter of the same date says:

"We have little or no business doing the last fortnight, owing to an insurrection among the negroes of the environs of our place, which they attacked on the night of the 17th, with the intention of plunder and murder. They were repulsed with the loss of many killed and wounded, but they were not totally destroyed, and therefore keep the town in a constant state of alarm. Since yesterday, however, a little confidence begins to be felt, and we must hope that things will soon take a more favorable turn."

"LA CROSSE AND LA CRESCENT BANK."—We alluded to this new bank several weeks ago, some of its bills having reached this quarter, and stated our impression that it was sound. Some of those interested in it, having lumber interests in Green Bay, its circulation has been extended to some extent to Oconto, Menominee and Bay De Noquet—and as most Minnesota banks are just now under a shadow, we are asked to state the facts in regard to this institution, which with three others are excepted from the suspicion which applies to the banks of that State.

The three Minnesota banks in credit now are the "Bank of St. Paul," the "Bank of the State," the "State Bank," and "La Crosse and La Crescent Bank." The bills of the latter bank are taken the same as Wisconsin currency at St. Paul and at La Crosse, and are redeemed by the Juneau Bank, Milwaukee, in Wisconsin currency, and in specie at its own counter. Its condition on the first Monday of the present month was as follows:

We are written to by one of its principal owners, whom we know to be an undoubtedly responsible man, that it is a sound institution now, and that it will always be kept so. We believe that it is so, and that it will be entirely safe to take its currency. We have no interest whatever in the matter except to extend our readers whatever information we possess in regard to it; and only state our own opinion, based upon the facts we get from creditable sources. We are not responsible for anything further.—Green Bay Advocate, July 21.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, July 20.

The nomination of Buchanan by the Pittsburgh Post, one of his favorite organs, immediately on reaching Bedford, shows the movement was preconcerted, and confirms previous indications here, well known in political circles. This step was not expected so soon, and has been precipitated by particular causes. It virtually notifies Cobb and Cabinet aspirants to withdraw.

Black has given an opinion that the conditions which Toucey sought to insert in the coal contract for the Bureau of Construction were not authorized by the terms of the advertisement, and hence cannot be incorporated. The device to break the contract has failed.

Slidell is expected here hourly. He disclaims, modestly, by private letters, desiring the Presidency, but would serve the country in an exigency.

His personal relations with Buchanan have considerably cooled, like those of all old friends of the President.

There are twelve cases in Prussia implicated with the question of the rights of adopted citizens abroad.—N. Y. Tribune.

THE LONDON Times of the 22d ult., in an article upon the interest of Europe in Italian affairs, the presence of King Leopold at the English court, his fears &c., and the importance of Napoleon's standing well in Europe, says: "The only interest of Europe in Italian affairs is to leave Italy to itself, and to keep Italy to itself. We believe it also to be the interest of the neighboring States to leave her alone, for she can only occupy their attention and their armies without contributing any equivalent support. Were France at the loss of fifty thousand men, to find herself occupying Italy with one hundred thousand, she would not be in at all a better condition for molesting the rest of Europe. Nor would the results be more dangerous to the peace of Europe if Austria were to be triumphant.—What, then, has Germany to fear? What has Belgium? The best thing they can do is to remain neutral so long as the war is localized in Italy, and in the meantime to take a lesson from a lamentable breakdown of the boasted military system of Austria. The giant has collapsed at the bullet of a French rifle. Discipline, physical strength, the commissariat, the strategy, the transport—everything has failed in the hour of trial, excepting only the courage of the men, who have been marched up, famished, sleepless and sun-stricken, to be shot down without a chance of even selling their lives dear."

THE Cincinnati Enquirer relates a "good one" which goes to show that at least one in the world has a "realizing sense" of the value of the hymenal institution. An unsophisticated swain arrived at the Spencer House, in that city, a few days ago, from one of the river counties in Kentucky, having eloped with a young woman with the most desperate of connubial purposes, and had the rite performed in the hotel by a minister from Cleveland who happened to be there. After the ceremony was performed, which was in the evening, the husband handed the clergyman ten dollars, and departed to enjoy the society of his new spouse. On the following morning he hunted up the preacher and gave him ten more, saying in his rude way that he always believed in paying the price a thing was worth, and marriage was a great deal better than he had thought it. The doctor of divinity smilingly received the extra ten, without asking an explanation, or further, particulars.

ADVERTISING.—A New Orleans correspondent of a northern paper, writes as follows concerning the extent to which advertising is done by the merchants of that city:

"The merchants of New Orleans are far more liberal in advertising than those of your city, and it is they alone who support most of our papers. One firm, in this city, in the drug business, expends $20,000 a year in job printing, and $30,000 in advertising. A clothing firm has expended $50,000 in advertising within six months. Both establishments are now enjoying the lion's share of patronage, and are determined to continue such profitable investments."

THE church occupied by the Baptist congregation worshipping under the pastoral charge of Rev. Sidney A. Corey, in Eighteenth street, near Fifth Avenue, New York, has been purchased by the vestry of St. Ann's Episcopal Church, for the deaf mutes, under the ministry of Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, who proposes to open the church on the first Sabbath in August. This will be, it is said, for the present, the only church in the world in which the deaf mutes can receive religious instruction.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Richmond Dispatch states that P. St. George Cooke, Esq., has donated to the Virginia Military Institute $20,000 for the establishment of an agricultural department to that institution.

"JACK, did you carry that umbrella home I borrowed yesterday?" "No, father, you have often told me to lay up something for a rainy day."

A Public Park.

It is a self-evident truth that every great improvement in our city adds to its attractions and makes it more desirable as a place of residence, directly benefitting, therefore, more or less, every resident, besides increasing the inducements for others to take up their abode here. With a conviction of this truth, we have always encouraged public enterprises at home, regarding them as steps in our progress towards that eminence, which, from her position as the natural commercial metropolis of the North-west, Milwaukee must inevitably occupy. The harbor improvements, the introduction of gas, the building of the Newhall; and many other public enterprises, we rejoiced at as events marking the unmistakable prosperity of our city. In the same spirit we favored the movement towards the construction of Water Works, and now it is our earnest hope that we may soon have the gratification of seeing that greatest of modern city improvements, the Horse Railroad system, inaugurated in Milwaukee. But all these are matters of necessity, incident to the growth of every city, and while we are not lacking in this sort of enterprise, the standard of our public taste is certainly below par as compared with other cities. Our citizens, it is true, are noted for the good taste they display in the inward and outward adornment of their dwellings; our merchants endeavor to excel each other in building elegant and costly stores; but, excepting a few commodious and handsome school houses, our public structures would be a discredit to a place of one quarter the size, wealth, or eminence of Milwaukee, and such an institution —to use a modern expression, applicable on all occasions—as a public Park, worthy of the name, is not known within the limits of our goodly city.

It is the belief that this latter public want will be more severely experienced in after years than at the present time, which induces us to offer the suggestion to the authorities that the matter of procuring a public park is a subject not unworthy of their consideration. That a good park will be needed before a great while, we think there can be no doubt, and that it is expedient that it should be purchased and laid out as early as possible it strikes us must be apparent to all. It may be argued against this proposition that the city is so impoverished at the present time as to be unable to go to any outlay that is not urgently called for. There is at least plausibility in such an objection, although we do not consider it a valid one. It should be borne in mind that the longer we defer purchasing ground for a park—taking it for granted that we must have one at some time —the more expensive it will be. Had the importance of this matter been thought of years ago, a piece of ground for a park might have been set aside at comparatively little cost to the city. If we neglect to do so now, or some time within the immediate future at farthest, years hence, our neglect will be reproached just as we now reproach those who have preceded us. There are many locations within the city suitable for a public park owned by wealthy men, who, in consideration of the benefits resulting to their property, would be willing, no doubt, to sell the city a piece of land on very reasonable terms. It is not necessary to advocate the actual necessity of having a good park. It is becoming more apparent every day, and we trust that this suggestion may be the means of stirring up some of our public spirited citizens to do something in the premises.

Last Night of the Opera.

The Cooper Opera Troupe give their last performance, at Albany Hall, this evening. They appear in Donizetti's sparkling opera, "The Elixir of Love," or "The Quack Doctor;" and will give it in the best style. We have had no such cheap and attractive entertainments in our city for several years, as these operas by the Cooper Troupe, and yet they have been indifferently attended. Let us hope that to-night, being their last appearance, a full house will greet them and enjoy their excellent music.

INCIDENTAL.—The young lady mentioned some time ago as having had nearly twenty teeth extracted at one time, by one of our best dentists, relates the following as having occurred recently, while she was visiting the office of the surgeon:

An elderly lady who had suffered from time immemorial with the toothache, had at last arrived at the point of destruction—and consequently extraction,—and had just gone off in that semi-somnambulative state resulting from chloroform. The poor molars were lifted out, remorselessly, one by one, without a sigh or quiver, and the stimulating draught applied to call back sensibility. In a few moments the lady opened her eyes—looked about—put her hand to her mouth, and then flinging her arms about the operator, burst into tears Her ecstacy knew no bounds, and toothless, she rejoiced at the wonderful, magical deliverance from misery.

REPAIRS TO THE THIRD WARD SCHOOL HOUSE.—The Comptroller invites proposals for making certain needed repairs to the Third Ward School House. The building will be open from 10 to 12 A. M., Monday, and parties will be in attendance to point out the repairs required

The School Census for 1859.

The census of the children of the city, between the ages of 4 and 20 years, required by law to be taken annually, has just been completed. As for the two previous years, it has been done by Mr. J. A. SEGER, under the direction of the Board of School Commissioners, and is believed to be full and reliable. The following is a comparison, by Wards, of the census for last year and this:

Wards.	No. of children, 1858.	No. of children, 1859.
First	1655	1700
Second	1345	1203
Third	1079	1585
Fourth	1290	1545
Fifth	1397	1558
Sixth	1337	1264
Seventh	1581	1571
Eighth	1252	1252
Ninth	1993	2095
	13,749	14,933

This shows an increase of 684 in the number of school children, and represents an increase, in the population of our city, of some three thousand.

According to the returns, the number of children attending school at the time the census was taken, was 6,940. Of this number 5,133 attended the Public Schools, and 1,807 attended Private Schools. Last year, the number attending the Public Schools was 4,174, and Private Schools 1,350. There has been a very marked increase, therefore, in the school attendance, during the school year just closed.

It is proper to remark, however, that the census only shows the number of children who were in actual attendance at school, when the census-taker made his call. The school reports, on the other hand, show the whole number who have attended the Public Schools during the year. The following table shows the comparison:

Wards.	Census.	School Report.
First	609	742
Second	825	944
Third	804	1,450
Fourth	503	577
Fifth	458	716
Sixth	477	529
Seventh	563	507
Eighth	341	495
Ninth	669	705
	5,133	7,229

Thus it will be seen that the whole number of children who have attended the public schools during the past year, was 7,229, though the number in attendance when the census was taken was only 5,133.

A Resolution Adopted by the Milwaukee Cadets.

Knowing that as members of this Corps, we are necessarily looked upon as representatives of the young men of Milwaukee, and that as such, it behooves us to guard with vigilance the honor of our uniform, to cultivate and maintain a reputation that should be alike creditable to the city and to ourselves, we deem it proper that good conduct, sobriety and morality should be amongst the conditions of membership in our ranks, and their opposite the cause of expulsion.

It is a fact widely known that many worthy young men are deterred from availing themselves of the benefits of early military training, through fear of the evil influences that are considered by many, incorrectly, though not without some reason, the inevitable result of military organizations, and which have begot an indifference, if not an antipathy, in the midst of a very large portion of the community, to our excellent militia system—the real bulwark of our country's freedom. Being mindful of these facts, and having recently witnessed an example in the admirable regulations of the 60th Regiment at Chicago, which are in every respect worthy of emulation; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the committee appointed at the last meeting to remodel the by-laws, be instructed to insert a clause therein, to the effect that any officer or member of this corps who shall be guilty of any ungentlemanly impropriety, of entering a drinking saloon or disreputable place, or who shall be seen intoxicated while wearing the uniform of this company, upon the same being made known to the proper authority, shall be immediately and unconditionally EXPELLED.

COM. OF THE MIL. CADETS.

THE BOOT AND SHOE BUSINESS.—Messrs. BRADLEY & METCALF, of East Water street, employ two hundred hands in working up these indispensible articles of clothing. From their store extends a radii of influence for a hundred miles around, and the weekly amount of work brought in for inspection would be astodishing in round numbers.—Their work passes a severe inspection, and consequently is always well done, or not received, and the liberality of the firm in paying for good work, is the great secret why they always offer for sale the best stock It is made for them, and it is made as they wish.

Messrs. BRADLEY & METCALF have extended their business by using the right means, until their store, shop and manufacturing rooms are of that extent that we were more than an hour in going over them.

Under the guidance of the gentlemanly WILLIAMS, we, however, completed the tour satisfactorily, feeling every way convinced of their superior facilities for doing business, and with an enlarged conception of the capacities of so unprecending a building outside.

Country merchants will do well to trade with this firm. In doing so they will be going to Head-quarters, and having the largest stock to select from, will be better able to please themselves.

LEWIS HOUSE, FOND DU LAC.—The traveling correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel speaks of Fond du Lac as lacking in the essential of having a good hotel, and of Oshkosh as possessing one of the best in the West—the Adams House. We believe the reputation of the Adams House to be good, and we know nothing against it. But the Lewis House, Fond du Lac, has a reputation not to be surpassed; and it argues little for the intelligence of the Sentinel man to have overlooked it. Its tables are always first rate, the whole house is clean and well managed, and Col. and Mrs. Ewen make it always home-like and pleasant.—Green Bay Advocate.

Our Green Bay contemporary is entirely right. We rather think that "Nym Crinkle" missed the Lewis House at Fond du Lac.—It is certainly one of the best Hotels in the State, and is deservedly popular with the traveling public.

MUNICIPAL COURT—HIS HONOR, JUDGE FOOTE PRESIDING.—FRIDAY, July 22d.—Patrick Gillan, drunk, fined $1; committed for 5 days.

Joseph Oswald, a Bohemian boy, some 10 or 12 years of age, was put upon trial for stealing $15 in gold from the house of Wm. Ellis, in the 9th Ward. Found guilty, and sentenced to 30 days imprisonment in the county jail.

STEAM FIRE ENGINE FOR OUR CITY.—The Common Council have directed the Chief Engineer and Comptroller to inquire and report as to the cost and current expenses of a Steam Fire Engine. We need such an addition to our Fire Department, especially for service on East and West Water streets.

TO ANY PERSON wishing a good homestead, we would refer them to the advertisement of W. H. RODWAY, Real Estate Agent, No. 19 Wisconsin street. Mr. RODWAY has been appointed Agent for the Fox and Wisconsin Improvement Company lands. These lands were selected at an early day by the Company's Engineers, and may, therefore, be relied upon as being in every respect equal to what they are represented. Many of these lands are in old settled counties, adjoining, or near to goods farms and villages, and in a region excelled by no other for its beautiful fountains of fresh spring water and healthfulness of atmosphere.

FREE OPERA.—"Johnny," said a mildewed youngster to his associate yesterday, "goin' to the Opery to night?" "Opery!" said No. 2 with dirty surprise. "Ov course," replied No. 1: "Don't I take Doll every night? All yer got to do is to set on ther steps ov the Noshall, and clap yer hands when she comes the killin' notes. You can do it jist as well there as inside: all the fellers goes every nite, and it 's fine, now it is."

MADAME BOSCO gives one of her magical entertainments at Albany Hall on Monday evening. The Chicago Journal speaks of her thus:

Madame Bosco must be sat down as the princess of Necromancers. Her pleasing appearance and manner give a piquancy and zest to the entertainment which are wanting in masculine performers, while she excels the best of them in the practice of her art.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

From California and Mexico.

NEW ORLEANS, July 22—9 P. M.

The steamship W. N. Webb from Minitillan on the 18th, with the California mails to the 6th instant, arrived here to-day.

The steamers Golden Gate and Cortez left San Francisco on the 6th inst., for Panama, with $2,200,000 in treasure and 900 passengers.

Two considerable failures had been reported. The prices of leading goods were tending downwards. Money was easy.

The mining news was good and the grain market abundant.

The National Anniversary was celebrated throughout the State with unusual enthusiasm.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Milton S. Latham had been nominated by the Democrats for Governor.

MEXICO.—Gen. Marquesa had robbed the Conducta, from Ganajua to San Blas, of $600,000.

A conspiracy had been discovered in the city of Mexico, to place Marquesa in pawor. He subsequently declared for Santa Anna, at Guadalajara.

Miramon has made a complete change in his Cabinet, on account of a change in his policy. He is in favor of liberty of the Press, amnesty for political offences, and a partial confiscation of church property.

The Church party had declared for Marquesa who was at Guadalaja with two thousand men.

Washington Matters

WASHINGTON, July 22—9 P. M.

The President has appointed J. A. Cushman, of Miss., Minister to the Argentine confederation, in place of Mr. Yancy resigned.

An arrangement has just been completed for the publication in this city of a political and literary magazine, to be called the National Democratic Quarterly Review, under the editorship of Col. Thos. B. Florence, of Philadelphia, assisted by eminent contributors. It is to be the expositor of the present and all the future Democratic administrations.

Mr. Barrenger has formally declined the Central American Mission. The opinion is entertained that all the pending questions in that quarter can be adjusted by a properly qualified representative.

The despatches from Mr. McLane, the Mexican Minister, present no stirring or interesting facts in addition to the newspaper accounts of Mexican affairs already published.

ST. LOUIS, July 22—9 P. M.

The Santa Fe mail of the 4th arrived at Independence.

The Indians, previously reported on the route, have disappeared. Their whereabouts is unknown.

Republican State Convention.

A Republican State Convention will be held at the City of Madison, in the Assembly Hall of the Capitol on Wednesday, the 31st day of August next, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of nominating candidates for State officers to be supported by the party at the coming general election; and to transact any other business that may properly come before it.

As the subject of selecting delegates to the next National Convention may be entertained and acted on by the Convention, it is suggested that the people in their primary caucuses, and the district conventions make such expression as will intimate to their delegates and the State Convention, the general sentiment of the State on that subject.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

It is recommended that District Conventions for the selection of delegates be held throughout the State, on or before the 25th day of August, and that committees make early calls for that purpose; and it is especially urged that every district be duly represented in the Convention.

The Doctrine of General Cass.

We copy from the New York Tribune a brief but forcible article, exposing the wrong and inconsistency of the Cass doctrine relative to the rights of adopted citizens. We commend it to the attention of the News, which is just now greatly exercised on the subject, and persists in charging the Sentinel with misrepresenting Gen. Cass. The Sentinel has done nothing of this sort. Indeed, as we have already said, the Cass-Le Clerc letter is not susceptible of misrepresentation. It requires no other note, nor comment, and is as explicit, as it is brief.

PLAIN TALK.—Senator ALBERT G. BROWN, of Mississippi, proclaimed in a recent speech "that the only hope of the Southern Democracy was to make a fight in the Charleston Convention—to go there determined to have their views incorporated in the creed of the party, or break up the concern in a row. He had no doubt, as they had heretofore controlled the party on all questions, that the Northern freesoil element would yield in graceful submission again. If they did not, why, then, apply the torch to the great temple of Democracy, and blow the concern to flinders. Rather than see the party destroyed, the North, WHICH DIDN'T CARE FOR PRINCIPLE, would allow anything to be interpolated into the creed."

Senator BROWN has taken the exact measure of our Northern Doughfaces, and is no doubt sincere in the advice which he gives the South. That the office-holders and office-seekers among the Democracy of the North will yield everything like principle for the sake of spoils, is matter of record. But whether the masses of the party can be sold out in this fashion, is quite another question.

RAILROAD RIOT.—Several hundred laborers on the Racine and Mississippi Railroad, now in course of completion between Freeport and Davis, have struck for higher wages.—They have been receiving $1,00 per day of 12 hours, and demand $1.25 and only 10 hours per day. The strikers were at once paid off and discharged, and others hired in their places. They them made an organized and riotous demonstration against the new laborers, and of course a serious fight was the result, the particulars of which have not yet come to hand. Several officers went out from Freeport on Tuesday to quell the disturbance, but without avail; and the Sheriff with a company of military from Freeport has gone out to preserve peace at all hazards, and to protect the property and rights of the Railroad Company. Before this can be done, it may be necessary to resort to extreme measures.

AN ENTERPRISING COLORED MAN.—The editor of the Hornellsville, N. Y., Journal has seen a letter from Mr. J. BENNET, a colored barber of that village, who left some weeks since for the coast of Africa, where he intended to engage in farming. The letter is from Liverpool, and states that he had purchased two cotton gins and ten bushels of cotton seeds, and intended to sail the next day with his goods, on board the steamship Ethiopia, for Lagos, on the west coast of Africa. Mr. BENNET states that there are now eighteen English stores at Lagos, and the surrounding country is pronounced the best cotton field in the world, and specimens of the cotton raised there, lately received in Liverpool, had brought the highest price of any in the market. Mr. BENNET intends to devote his attention to cotton growing.

THE HUNGARIAN NATIONAL MOVEMENT.—Colonel ASBOTH, who has recently issued a card inviting the Hungarian exiles in this country to take part in the projected movement for national independence, says in a subsequent letter that a large number of others, Americans, Germans, English, &c., have offered their services. He expresses gratitude for this unexpected manifestation of sympathy, but says that he has no authority to make any arrangements extending to others than Hungarian exiles, and especially none to do anything in violation of the laws of the United States, as would be the enlistment of American citizens in an expedition against a Power with whom we are at peace.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—It is announced that the Atlantic Telegraph Company has obtained the co-operation of ROBERT STEPHENSON, Professors WHEATSTONE and THOMPSON, who, with Mr. VARLEY, consulting electrician of the Company, and other scientific individuals, will form a committee to investigate and advise as to the construction of the next cable.

Mr. SEWARD, Secretary of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, publishes letters contradictory of the absurd rumor that the cable had never been in practical operation. He shows that there were actually transmitted a total of three hundred and sixty messages, or thirty-nine hundred and forty words.

HOW IT HAPPENED.—The N. Y. Tribune's Washington letter states that it is well understood there that the LE CLERC letter was written by Mr. HUNTER, Chief Clerk of the State Department, in the regular routine of business: the HOFER letter by Mr. APPLETON, to remove the sting of the first; and that part of the dispatch to our Minister at Berlin which has been published, by Mr. BUCHANAN, as an antidote to both the others.

A PROFITABLE ORATORIO.—The great Handel Festival recently held in the Crystal Palace, near London, was something like an entertainment. The receipts fell not far of $140,000. Deducting expenses, there would still be a balance of $90,000. The receipts on the last day, when "Israel in Egypt" was given, amounted to very nearly eighty thousand dollars. This, of course, is entirely without precedent in the history of public performances.

A WASHINGTON LETTER in the N. Y. Times says, the impression grows stronger that American volunteer regiments will be employed to aid the Constitutional Government to conquer rebellion in Mexico. In that case it is said that Juarez will have no difficulty in raising a loan in the United States on the hypothecation of the Government lands, estates and securities.

IT IS taken for granted that, should the Austrians be driven out of Italy, a French army of observation will have to be kept there for some time to come. Several of the French general officers, it is said, upon the strength of this conviction have taken houses at Milan and Genoa for two years and upward.

R. B. BROUGH, the most successful burlesque writer of the day, has been giving readings of selections from his own poetical works, humorous and pathetic.

Let Washington County be Represented.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—As we are soon to enter upon a State election, which, from all appearances, will be well contested by our opponents, it behooves the Republicans not only to place good and unexceptionable men on our next State ticket, but we want men whose nomination will wake up some enthusiasm. Now among the many names that will be presented to the consideration of the Republican party of this State before their Convention will convene, we, in common with the rest, have a name to present for the office of Attorney General, and as he resides in a county whose claims have heretofore been ignored for any State office by both parties, and as there is something to be expected from this county this fall through the irresistible eloquence of our gifted SCHURZ, as well as through the influence and popularity of the well qualified gentleman whose name we here respectfully present: Judge FRISBY, of Washington County.

The Judge is an earnest and zealous Republican, who has dared to stand by our colors in this Egypt of Wisconsin, at a time when one stood in danger of a coat of "tar and feathers" for openly exhibiting such fearlessness to advocate our principles, and by his honest, open and unflinching course and readiness at all times to cross swords with any of these Egyptian sons, he has won their confidence and esteem, and with a few other true Republicans in that county, has succeeded by their zeal and energy in increasing our strength in that county, from a mere nothing to a little army of one thousand strong. If the Republicans will hereafter give this county and Ozaukee a little more attention, and let their light shine in Egypt, they may expect to witness the same revolution in these counties as is now being realized in the State of Missouri, by the honest and earnest manner in which Missouri is agitating the free labor question. We say let Washington county be represented on our next Republican State ticket.

MILWAUKEE.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MADISON, July 21st, '59.

EDITORS OF SENTINEL:—The people of Madison are expecting to enjoy a literary festival of more than ordinary interest, next week. The Examinations at the University, which begin this afternoon, will close on Monday evening. These examinations will be conducted by the Professors and other instructors, in the presence of an Examining Committee, consisting of three members of the Board of Regents, Messrs. HOBART, PICKARD and DEWEY, and three other gentlemen not officially connected with the institution, viz: Mr. PICKETT, of Horicon, Dr. HENRY SMITH, of Lake Seminary, Walnut Hill, Ohio, and Rev. JAS. CALDWELL, of Madison.

On Tuesday, the 26th instant, the State Teachers' Association will convene at 3 o'clock P. M. After some preliminaries, which will allow time for persons arriving on the three o'clock train from Milwaukee to reach the City Hall, the opening address will be delivered by Mr. PICKETT, of Horicon.

In the evening of the same day, the two Literary Societies of the University will be addressed by Hon. H. MCGUFFEY, of the University of Va. Dr. MCGUFFEY is well known to the residents of the Ohio valley as one of the most successful College Teachers, as well as one of their most acute, original and popular lecturers on literary and educational themes. To many who have not known him in these characters, his name has become familiar as household words, as that of principal author of the Eclectic Educational Series.

On Wednesday will occur the inauguration of Dr. BARNARD, as Chancellor of the University, and also the commencement exercises of that Institution. The inauguration exercises will consist, I understand, of an address by CARL SCHURZ, Esq., of Milwaukee, on behalf of the University Regents; one by JULIUS T. CLARK, of Madison, in behalf of the Board of Regents of Normal Schools, with the new Chancellor's inaugural discourse.

The Teachers' Association will continue their sessions, except so far as interrupted by the other public exercises, until sometime on Friday. Public addresses will be made before this body by Dr. SMITH, of Lane Seminary, Prof. LARKIN, of your city, Mr. JOHNSON, of Fond du Lac, Prof. DANIELS, of Waukesha, and the Rev. Messrs. KINNEY, of Racine, and PRATT, of Sheboygan, and an Essay will be read by Miss E. L. BISSELL, of Hartford, Conn.

Such a bill of fare as this ought to secure a large attendance of the friends of good learning and of popular education, from all parts of the State. We hope that Milwaukee and all the Lake shore will be represented.

Yours respectfully, INDEX.

The Weather and Crops.

Since the "heated term," which ended in a fine thunder shower on Monday, the weather has been perfect: and under its genial influence the crops have matured rapidly. The farmers have commenced harvesting in many parts of the State, and good reports of the quality and abundance of the crops reach us from all quarters. Our exchanges all hold the same language. We copy two paragraphs as samples:

Within the past few days we have made inquiries of all whom we supposed had any knowledge of the crops in this county, and have received the uniform answer that the prospect is of the most encouraging character. The excessive heat and rains of last week did no material damage, while the favorable turn in the weather this week is all that could be asked or desired. In some instances we hear that the cutting has commenced, and a week more time will see hundreds of reapers at work. The chief complaint we hear is that the grain is thin in some localities, but all admit, as the crops now stand, the quality will be excellent, and the yield remunerative where it is not abundant.

Corn had an almost marvelous growth during the hot season, and seems to have been pushed forward to just the limit where other crops could bear it.

If no unfavorable weather intervenes in the coming fortnight, and injury from other causes is averted, "Old Rock" will be a granary filled to repletion with as choice a quality of products as ever gladdened man, or ministered to his manifold wants.—Janesville Gazette, July 21.

WEATHER AND CROPS.—Every day the past week has been what our grain crops have needed, and the effect upon the approaching harvest must be very favorable. The next week, however, will be one of most intense anxiety to the husbandmen, as their wheat crop now so promising, may be ruined or saved in that time. It is safe to say that wheat never looked better for quantity and quality in Dodge county than at present. This is the universal testimony of our farmers.—We are told by one man that in counting a number of heads in his wheat field, he found it averaged fifty kernels to the head, and will probably yield over thirty bushels to the acre, if not injured in the next week. A gentleman from Rock County tells us that wheat, corn, oats and potatoes are all looking better in this county than he has seen them elsewhere in the State. Corn has accomplished most astonishing feats in growth during the past ten days. Some fields of barley have already been harvested in this county, yielding well, and in a week more the harvest of wheat will commence. If Providence continues to smile upon the farmers' labors until their abundant harvests are secure, there will be reason for great thankfulness.—Dodge County Citizen, July 21.

SUBSTITUTE FOR IMPRISONMENT.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial writes from Jefferson County, Texas:

"This is not a county seat, but it is necessary to have some place of confinement for criminals; and as a substitute for a jail, the people have provided a large stone, weighing over three tons, placed in the public square, with a large iron ring and long iron chain fastened to it, and when a poor fellow commits a crime, and the sentence is imprisonment, he is fastened to the chain by the ankle and there remains night and day; but if his crime be light, and he had previously borne a good character, the judge in his mercy often allows him to carry an umbrella to protect himself from the rain and storm."

THERE is a negro in Philadelphia whose feet are 21 inches long.

Cass on Naturalization.

In the shape of a dispatch to our Minister at Berlin, Mr. Cass publishes in the Washington Constitution an apology for the defence of the doctrines announced in some recent letters of his, which have given so great a shock to our adopted citizens. This document begins with denominating the doctrine of perpetual allegiance as a relic of barbarism. It only admits the right of expatriation as having been engrafted into the Constitution of the United States, by that clause of it which confers upon Congress the power to establish a uniform rule of naturalization. It all goes that from and after date of his naturalization (with the exception that he cannot become President of the United States) the naturalized citizen is placed upon the very same footing, both at home and abroad, as the native citizen. Still Mr. Cass justifies the opinion which he gave in his Le Clerc and Hofer letters, on the ground that he had in view in those letters only the cases of naturalized citizens who, at the time they left their native country, were already under obligations of military service, by having been already drafted into the army. He sets up a distinction between these cases and that of those who, at the time of their emigration, were subject only to a liability to future military service.

The distinction, however, between these two cases does not by any means seem so clear. There is room to apprehend that, in his negotiations with the Governments of Germany, Mr. Cass may find himself very hard pressed by the concessions he has himself made. He compares the case of a German subject drafted into the army to that of a British or American soldier who has voluntarily enlisted. He seems to regard the evasion by a German subject of a forced and involuntary service as standing upon the ground of a breach of contract. In the case of a voluntary enlistment, the soldier is personally and individually bound. The obligation has nothing to do with his citizenship. It is in the nature of a debt which he has himself contracted, and which he may, wherever found within the jurisdiction, and wherever change of citizenship he may meanwhile have undergone, be reasonably enough called upon to discharge. But in the German military service there is no enlistment. The individual, as an individual, does no act, and contracts no obligation. He is called into the army, and kept there merely by the tie of his allegiance—merely by the fact that he is the subject of such or such a State.—Now, if it be true, as Mr. Cass alleges, that the moment a foreigner becomes naturalized, his allegiance to his native country is severed forever; if, to use Mr. Cass' figure, he is born anew, and if, in consequence, a broad and impassable line separates him from his native country, how is it possible that an obligation to render military service which had no other basis, except the mere fact of his birth within that country, and his allegiance to the sovereign of it, can survive his new birth, and the total extinction of that former allegiance?

The entire extinction by the act of naturalization of all allegiance to any foreign state or potentate, would seem to carry with it the simultaneous extinction of all the consequences, or results of such allegiance—among the rest, the extinction of all obligations to render military or any other service, where no personal contract exists, and where the service was merely an incident to the allegiance.

What difference in fact is there—and this is a question which the German Government will be likely to call upon Mr. Cass to answer—between a future liability and a present liability to military service, when both the one and the other grow out of the mere fact of birth, independent entirely of any consent or co-operation on the part of the individual liable? If a new birth, a change of citizenship does not extinguish the one liability, as Mr. Cass seems to admit that it does not, it will perhaps not be easy to convince the German Government that it extinguishes the other.

It is very unfortunate, in view of the tenacity lamented by Mr. Cass with which the German Governments cling to the military service of those who once owed allegiance to them, that Mr. Cass should himself have put an argument into their mouths of which they will know well how to avail themselves. It would have greatly simplified matters, and probably have hastened a final arrangement of the question had our Government taken the plain and simple ground that all obligations to military service were extinguished simultaneously with the allegiance out of which those obligations arose. But that was too much to expect of the blunderheads of our Democratic Administration. If it had been a question of "niggers," they would have had clear views and a distinct purpose from the beginning; but as it is only a matter of white men, and those of foreign birth, there is no telling when they will come to a rational understanding of the subject.—New York Tribune.

California State Prison Emeute—Escape of Forty-Two Convicts.

From the San Francisco Daily Times, 27th ult.

There appears to have been a preconcerted plan among about fifty of the prisoners to escape; for when 100 had passed through the gate, and Messrs. Lee and Spell had also passed through, the gate was suddenly closed and locked, and the key taken by the outside, and forty of the convicts seizing the two free men, made off with them by Corte Madera Creek at a rapid pace. Having the Keeper and Superintendent with them, the men at the two armed posts were afraid to fire, for fear of killing them, and in this manner the body made off, secure from danger.—They proceeded as far as Parker's Ranch, where the Keeper and Superintendent were bound and placed in the bushes, after which the crowd continued their flight.

In the meantime the remaining 160, noticing the successful flight of the others, were preparing to follow suit, when the outer battery, consisting of a twelve pound gun, loaded with grape-shot, was opened upon them, killing one and wounding four. The prisoner then uttered a yell and cried out that they were willing to go back into the yard, but the gate being locked they were unable to enter. They then went around to the other gate, where they were admitted. A count was then had, when it was found that forty-two were missing. At this time Lee and Spell returned, with their hands bound behind them. They were unarmed. The guard, consisting of twenty men, and a posse from San Rafael, then started out after the fugitives.

Mr. Watson had come with one, and another party with twelve, and that seven had been killed in the woods. This would leave twenty-two still at large. The escapes are all Mexicans but two, and were in for short terms. The country about the prison was much alarmed, and many were coming in to the small settlements for protection. Not one of the guard or any freeman was injured, with the exception of Capt. McLane.

ANTIQUITY REVIVED.—At the second centennial celebration of the town of Woodbury, Connecticut, they had a procession, of a part of which the following account was given:

"The most interesting feature of the day was the antique procession. It was formed on the ground where the old church of Woodbury once stood. An ancient drummer and fifer headed the procession. Then came the clergy of the various towns comprising ancient Woodbury, decked in the bands and gowns which clergymen of the ancient times of all denominations then wore. (There is nothing said of the old full-bottomed wigs of that period.) Then came gentlemen and ladies in the dresses worn by the Puritans two hundred years ago. Most of these were lineal descendants of the first settlers of Woodbury—the Atwoods, the Minors, the Judsons and the Curtises. Then came a number in the cavalier costumes of Charles II's time, in contrast to the Puritans. Then a general assemblage of all the old-fashioned dresses worn from eighty years ago to the present time—past-revolutionary relics. These were followed by antique-dressed men and women on horseback, the women on pillions, and then all the old chaises that could be collected. These dresses were not manufactured for the occasion, but were veritable relics of the past, preserved with much care by the families that owned them. This part of the procession closed with couples on horseback and in antique chaises, and among these was Captain Hurd, 85 years old, and Mrs. Atwood, aged 72, dressed in ancient costume, and riding a horse 35 years of age."

WEST POINT MILITARY ACADEMY.—We find the following remarks in the report of the board of visitors addressed to the Secretary of War:

"In conclusion, we have to say, in bearing testimony to the value of the United States Military Academy at West Point, as a national institution, that the position of the United States as a first-rate power, requires that she ask nothing by way of forbearance from other nations. Hence it is that the people of the United States should always be prepared to apply to the active service of the army every discovery and invention in the art and science of war. These discoveries and investigations are progressive, and are constantly drawn from the experience of the nations.—They are collected and taught at this academy, so that the graduate goes to his duty as an officer fully instructed in the science and skill of the latest discoveries in his profession. Touching the expenditures by the government necessary to keep up in the most effective order this academy, the board of visitors take this occasion to record, individually and collectively, their well assured opinion, that it is but a drop in the ocean compared with the advantages resulting, and that have resulted to the United States from this institution."

BARON LOSIA, the celebrated lung doctor, in Paris, has examined Theodore Parker, and finds one sound lung and the other but slightly diseased, and sees no reason why he should not be restored to perfect health.

Items for Everybody.

AT A RECENT exhibition of paintings, a lady and her son were regarding with much interest a picture which the catalogue designated as "Luther at the Diet of Worms."—Having descanted at some length upon its merits, the boy remarked, "Mother, I see Luther and the table, but where are the worms?"

MANGLED BY A MOWING MACHINE.—On last Friday, Geo. F. Shelmire, proprietor of the Spread Eagle tavern, at Huntingdon Valley, Pa., met with an awful accident, by accidentally falling over a mowing machine while it was in motion. One of his hands was cut entirely off above the wrist, and the other one cut through the wrist and the hand nearly off.

THE CINCINNATI TIMES relates that a gentleman living in that city, and well to-do, married about ten years ago, and after living with his wife some five years, he concluded to get a divorce, on account of the unhappiness of their domestic relations. The wife assented, and he applied to the courts and was successful. A year passed, and he concluded to venture once more in the matrimonial market, and see if he could not find one who would make his home happier than the first. In this he was successful, and a short time afterwards his divorced wife applied to him for work in his family in the capacity of servant girl. The situation was given her, and she now does the work in the house of which she was once mistress.

A MAN'S LEG DRIVEN THROUGH AN INCH BOARD.—Mr. E. D. Harmon, of Jennaxa, had a serious accident on Tuesday morning, the 28th ult. He had loaded his wagon with cheese-boxes, with the intention of taking the same to market. The end-board to his wagon rack not being sufficiently stayed, the boxes, together with his own weight, caused the board to give way, and ther after tier of boxes rolled out of the wagon on the horses. As might be supposed, the horses became frightened and ran. They were reined out of the road and brought up alongside of a barn, where Mr. H. was violently thrown from the wagon, feet first, against the barn-door; and strange as it may appear, one foot and leg was actually driven through a solid inch board, forming part of the door. The boxes were scattered in all directions, the wagon broken very badly, and Mr. H. was picked up for dead. His injuries are not so bad as was at first supposed, and he is now fast recovering.—Ashtabula Adv.

LORENZO DOW ON BAD THOUGHTS.—Somebody once said to Lorenzo Dow, who was a very eccentric strolling preacher: Mr. Dow I don't know what to do. Bad thoughts trouble me very much. They come into my head, and I don't know how to keep them out. How can I help doing wrong, if it is wrong to have bad thoughts?" Mr. D. replied: "We can't stop birds from flying over our heads, but we can keep them from building nests in our hair. Do you ask, how can you drive away these bad thoughts, and keep them from making nests in your mind? Why, just as we exclude thistles from the land, by putting in so much good seed that there is no room left for them to grow. Keep the mind busy with something innocent and useful, and leave no place for the intruder."

ONE of the most curious celebrations of the Fourth of July, 1859, says the Philadelphia Journal, was that of the convicts at the Washington (D. C.) penitentiary. Those jail birds, having a fervent desire to flutter their wings in the sunshine of liberty, and to establish a more intimate relationship with the Bird of Birds, the eagle, long may he wave! petitioned their jailor, the warden, in a respectful manner for that privilege, and gracious permission was given them to celebrate. The exercises, of which there was a prettily printed programme, included the reading of the Declaration by a murderer, an address by a forger, and songs by various evil doers. "Do they Miss me at Home?" was given with peculiar feeling.

THE PALACE OF DR. TOWNSEND, on Fifth Avenue and Thirty-fourth street, has been sold. The Rev. Gordon D. Albott, of the Spingler Institute, has purchased it, with all its elegant furniture, for $200,000. The Spingler Institute will remove from Union Square to Fifth Avenue. It will be one of the most sumptuous schools in the land, if not in the world. Dr. Townsend is a large land owner, and will soon erect another splendid house further up town. So the world moves along. The wholesale stores are driving the retail up town. The schools are driving the dwellings further and further up. Soon the vicinity of Central Park will alone be the fashionable quarter of the city.—N. Y. Eve. Post, Friday.

IN CHESHIRE, (near the harbor) during a violent storm, a Mr. McIntosh, while sitting in his house, was struck by lightning, and was insensible for nearly two hours. His person was badly burned, and many fears are entertained that he will not recover. His wife, who was near, was also prostrated by the shock. A cat lying near his feet at the time, was instantly killed. During the storm, widow Northrup, residing in the west part of Cheshire, was severely shocked and rendered insensible for some twenty minutes.

FROM MILLIONS of bottles are annually made at a manufactory at Folembray, France. It is the largest manufactory of the kind in the world. The largest glass bottle ever blown was at Leith, Scotland. Its dimensions were 40 inches by 32, and it was capable of holding two barrels of fluid. That must have been the "big bellied bottle" alluded to in the song of "Old Rosin the Bow."

THE successful experiments made by Louis Napoleon in manœuvring induced the Prussian government to follow his example.—Finding money difficult to raise in England, they appealed to the Prussian people for aid, and the response has been such as to confirm the value of the precedent established by the French Emperor. By the last advices from Berlin we learn that the subscriptions to the loan of 30,000,000 thalers amounts to 31,875,100. The surplus of 1,875,100 thus subscribed for will be deducted from the different allotments to be made.

A SPRIGHTLY PARAGRAPHIST in the Philadelphia Journal considers the Shanghai the admirable Crichton, not to say the delectable Chesterfield, of the poultry yard. His politeness never forsakes him until his last tail feather droops. A gentleman the other day gave his fowl a large strawberry, which the courteous creature instantly and in the most graceful manner presented to his female companion. Shanghai always waits until the ladies have secured their food before he permits himself to partake of meat or drink.

A NEW GERMAN BOOK of travels, by Mundt, "Skizzen aus Piedmont and Rome"—gives an interesting account of Home, the medium. Herr Mundt says that in a circle of ladies, he could "as by an invisible spirit-hand," expand their dresses till they seemed blown out like balloons! The spirit writings that appeared on the wall, "stained by the incorrectness of the French orthography." "The American Cagliostro" has certainly an enviable European reputation.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION of the Young Men's Christian Association of the United States, which convenes in Troy, will be represented by every State in the Union, and the delegation from many of them will be large. The sessions will continue through the 13th, 14th and 15th. On the 15th there will be an excursion to Saratoga, and on the 17th an address by Dr. Beman of Troy.

THE LAST MAINE LEGISLATURE passed an act of some importance to capitalists. It exempts cotton and woolen manufacturing establishments hereafter started—building, machinery and capital—from taxation for ten years, in all towns voting their assent to the act. We observe that the town of Brunswick, which has very superior manufacturing capabilities, has given its assent by a vote of 254 to 17.

HOGS are plenty in Kentucky. The returns of the Assessors to the Auditor at Frankfort show that in sixty-four counties of Kentucky there are this year 815,588 hogs assessed for taxation, against 689,207 in the same counties last year, being an increase of 126,241 heads. The same rate of interest in the remaining counties will swell the excess to 300,000 head.

THE NEW ORLEANS correspondent of the Charleston Courier says that Bishop Polk has succeeded in getting ten gentlemen of his diocese of the Episcopal Church to subscribe $300,000 towards the establishment of the great Southern University. One old gentleman, formerly U. S. Senator, and subsequently Governor of Louisiana, Hon. Mr. Johnson, has subscribed $40,000.

SMITH O'BRIEN says: "Let such of our countrymen as have made America their permanent home, frankly and fully accept a permanent fusion with native born Americans, as the inevitable destiny of their children, and may the result of that fusion be a permanent alliance in interest and affection between North America and Ireland!"

THE BENICIA BOY is slowly recovering from the severe injuries he received from his assailants in Boston on the night of the 1st. It is reported that three noted fancy characters, who were present when the assault was made, have fled to parts unknown.

RECENTLY a man was arraigned for stealing a demijohn of whisky. "Are you guilty or not guilty?" asked the Clerk. "Wal, you can call it what you likes, I tuk the whisky, that I admit, and drank it, too." "You took it without leave, did you not?" "I never wait to be asked, when that article's around!"

FROM official returns, it appears that the number of printing offices in France is but 1,037. These employ 9,500 compositors, 3,000 pressmen, and 900 correctors and overseers. The produce of the whole is estimated at five millions of dollars.

WALKING THE RAPIDS ABOVE NIAGARA FALLS ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.—A letter from a Mr. KLAIN, a Swedish gentleman, to his friend in Philadelphia, dated Sept. 2, 1750, contains the following narrative of a feat which equals M. BLONDIN's adventure:

"Twelve years ago, two Iroquois Indians, fishing above the Falls, were cast on the Island. It was seven days before their condition become known. The Commandant, when he came to the spot, ordered poles to be made, pointed with iron. Two Indians determined to walk to the Island by the help of these poles, to save the other poor creatures, or perish in the attempt. They took leave of their friends as if going to certain death. Each had two such poles in his hands, to set against the bottom to keep them steady. So they went, and got to the Island, and having given poles the Indians there, they all returned safely to the main land.—Those two Indians who, in the above-mentioned manner, were first brought to the Island are yet alive. The Indians go the Island now to kill deer, but if the King of France were to give me all Canada I would not."

WHAT MURPHY HAS DONE.—Out of 149 even games he won 117, lost 19, and 13 were drawn: out of 33 blindfold games, he won 20, lost 1, and 12 drawn. Of 35 consultation games, he won 17, lost 4, and 17 were drawn. Giving the pawn and move, he won 18 games, lost two, and 5 were drawn. Give the pawn and two moves, he won 14 games, lost 2, and 1 was drawn.

A CARD TO THE "LADIES."

Dr. Duponco's Golden Periodical Pills

FOR FEMALES.

THE COMBINATION OF INGREDIENTS in Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills are perfectly harmless. They have been used in the private practice of old Dr. Duponco for over thirty years, and thousands of ladies can testify to their great and never failing success in almost every case, in correcting irregularities, relieving pains and distressing menstruation, particularly at the change of life. From five to ten pills will cure that common yet dreadful complaint, the Whites. Nearly every lady in the land suffers from that complaint. The above pill has permanently cured thousands, and will cure you if you use them. They cannot harm you, on the contrary, they remove all obstructions, restore nature to its proper channel, and invigorate the whole system. Ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family, will find these pills a successful preventative. Pregnant Females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition although their mildness would prevent any mischief to the health—otherwise, these pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box. Price $1,00 per box. H. BOSWORTH & SONS,

Wholesale Agents for Milwaukee.

They will supply the trade at Proprietor's prices, and furnish circulars, and show cards. Sold also by H. Fess, jr., 196 East Water St., J. M. Alcott 266, J. H. Tesch, 9 Spring St., and C. H. Gardiner & Co., 19 Spring St. "Ladies" by enclosing $1,00 to H. Bosworth & Sons, or either of the above Agents, can have the above Golden Pills sent to any part of the country (confidentially) by mail.

N. B.—Be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills, and remember, they are not a secret nostrum, every agent is given the receipt composing the Pills, and they will tell you they are the best and safest Pill for Females, ever introduced since the science of Medicine dawned upon the world.

QUICK CURES OF BILIOUS COLIC.—This distressing complaint demands prompt attention. It will readily yield to the R. R. R. treatment. Whenever you find illcrising from the stomach, or a sour taste after belching, take three or four of R. R. REGULATORS. Likewise one-half a teaspoonful (STEADY'S PILLS, every 25 minutes; rub the bowels, back and spine well with the Ready Relief; also lay a flannel wet with Relief across the Bowels. In fifteen minutes you will be free from the distressing pain; the violent spasms will be arrested, and vomiting entirely stopped. In three hours a pleasant operation of the bowels will take place, and your whole system will become regulated and healthy.

Persons who indulge in too much green fruit, or a bad state, or unripe vegetables, and indigestible meats, should take a dose of RADWAY'S REGULATORE after eating, and they will prevent violent attacks of colic. Keep the stomach clean and pure from acid, the Bowels and Liver regular, and no sickness will trouble you—R. R. Relief to neutralize and R. R. Regulators to regulate the system. R. R. R. We copy the following literary trifle from our evening cotemporary, the Wisconsin. It is from the pen of HATTIE TYNG, and breathes a mingled simplicity and sweetness that is charming:

TO MRS. C——.

Now beside thy saddened heartthrone,
Falls no more that sound so sweet
To the parent's heart, the thrilling
Patter of soft baby feet.

And no more thy heart will flutter
With love's dear and sweet diurne,
Feeling round thy neck the twining
Of her dimpled baby arms.

For one day the note was sounded,
"Mid the rose-tides of the blest,
"Come up hither," and thy Pamie
Sleeps with rose-buds on her breast.

O'er the pearly bridge which spanneth
That dark place twixt us and bliss,
Angels wooed thy little darling,
With their soft and trembling kiss.

And at life's immortal fountain,
Christ her little cup will fill;
And will lead her through green pastures,
By the waters cool and still.

And through all the haunted future
Baby arms will beckon thee,
And sweet baby lips seem calling,
"Father, Mother, come to me."

Systematic Ballooning.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE N. Y. TRIBUNE:—Sir:—Although many persons seem disposed to regard the late balloon voyage from St. Louis eastward as a mere Quixotic adventure, it is certainly a very important event, notwithstanding its perilous conclusion, since it confirms in a striking manner the existence of a grand, aerial current in the upper regions of our atmosphere, flowing steadily and uniformly from west to east, at the rate of 40 or 50 miles an hour, above the range of clouds, storms and variable winds. Since the year 1825, Mr. Wise has made 230 ascensions, and in 40 out of 41 in which he reached the height of two miles, he has found this current, moving always in the same direction. In November, 1836, the celebrated aeronaut, Green, sailed in his gigantic Vauxhall balloon across the sea from London to Weilburg, Germany, with the "express design of settling the long-agitated question as to whether there were, at a great altitude, currents of air in one direction for several months together." He traveled the distance, 500 miles west to east, in 18 hours, and says, "we had power enough, had we been so intentioned, to have continued our course throughout the whole circumference of the globe." In September, 1849, M. Auban, a French aeronaut, sailed by night over the Alps, from Marseilles to Turin, west to east, distance 460 miles, in eight hours.

These facts, and especially the late voyage from St. Louis, render it highly probable that the same current exists in all parts of the North Temperate Zone. It is only a subject well worthy, in itself, of the attention and labors of scientific men, but to this current we must also look for the first practical results of aerial navigation. Every one feels that a more speedy communication between the Pacific and Atlantic States is, for many reasons, exceedingly desirable. Let the experiment of a balloon voyage be tried, and if Government cannot be induced to lend its powerful aid, let a joint-stock company, or some enterprising individual, furnish some competent balloonist with the means necessary to construct a balloon of proper dimensions, and material for a trip from San Francisco to St. Louis. By ascending into the upper current, where there are no storms or commotions to occasion disaster, and maintaining his position there by the help of the barometer, and an ample supply of ballast, there is no good reason why he should not float 1,700 miles (the distance from San Francisco to St. Louis, as the crow flies) in 30 or 40 hours, with as much ease as the leaky and ill-conditioned Atlantic sailed 1,000 miles, from St. Louis to Adams, in 20. Should the trial be made and prove successful, balloons can be built of capacity sufficient to carry several tons weight, and the conveyance of letters, passengers and gold will soon become a profitable business. A few voyages will bring larger experience and lessen the dangers, which, if we may judge from the number of times experienced aeronauts have returned in safety from the regions above, are greatly exaggerated. But dangers or no dangers, demonstrate the possibility of the thing, and the love of gain will do the rest. When aerial journeys from San Francisco and New York have become an old story, and not till then, will it be time to think of a voyage across the Atlantic Ocean.

THE FAMOUS "ZOUAVES."—The N. Y. Tribune discussing of the war in Italy, thus graphically describes the Zouaves:

"When an American to visit the French army in Italy, his attention would be arrested by the variety of troops of which it is composed. The Grenadiers and Voltigeurs of the Imperial guard, the Chasseurs de Vincennes, the Turcos, the Zouaves, and other strangely-costumed and uniquely-equipped corps, so like variegated and versatile France herself, would rivet his eye. And foremost among these would stand the world-renowned Zouaves. Composed of men of all classes, colors and climes, their half-Turkish, half-Moorish dress, and general Oriental mien and aspect, befit a corps which is a seeming cross between Don Cæsar De Bazan and Rob Roy, between a modern Alpine brigand and an ancient Knight of the Holy Sepulchre. Off duty, they are as gay and volatile as a Parisian; but in the din of battle, as brave and bloody as a North American Indian or Algerine corsair. They usually go through their evolutions on the run, and their favorite weapon is the cold steel of the bayonet. The world does not afford their match for hand-to-hand street fights; to mount the walls of loop-holed houses under a shower of rifle balls, and clear them of the enemy; to stand and be plowed by cannon shot till the trumpet sounds the onset; to charge up to the mouth of a spouting battery, or receive a galloping squadron of cavalry on their pointed points; to leap a moat or swim a river or scale a hill, in the face of a tempest of grape; or to meet and master the most desperate exigencies that the bloody god can devise. At Palestro, we think it was, a battalion of them was ordered to silence a distant Austrian battery. As the trumpets sounded, they tore off their knapsacks, took the "gymnastic step," which means a run, swam the intervening stream, holding their firearms high in air to keep their powder dry, dashed at the flaming throats of the guns with the yell of Canadaches, and bounding clear over them, like Bedouin Arabs, firing one shot as they went, they transfixed half the gunners with their bayonets, and brained the rest with the butts of their weapons. No wonder the Austrian colonel who witnessed the scene said: "These are not men—they are tigers!" From Montebello to Solferino, the Zouaves have left double their share of dead on the field, as testimonials that they pay with their hearts' blood for the title of "the crack corps" of the French army.

THE Paris gossip of the Liverpool Journal contains the following story, which, unlike most of the tales of Paris, is fit to be told:

"A certain young Irish beauty, engaged to a desirable young Englishman, went to the French capital on a visit to an aunt about five months ago; with her went her lover and her sister, and a gay season was enjoyed by all parties. As for the bride elect, she found a certain Polish Prince, who frequented her aunt's salon, so agreeable that she actually told her affianced bride-groom; and what was astonishing, the bride-groom quite agreed, and thought so too. Some weeks passed on thus, the Polish Prince became more and more delightful, the bride-groom more and more willing to own it; until one fine day, upon some hint being thrown out by the Polish prince, the heroine informed her English lover that she did not think their marriage a desirable thing. The lover, with wonderful alacrity, agreed with her, and, this engagement being broken off, he at once offered himself to the sister of his former fiance, who readily accepted him. Everything was now going on smoothly, only the Polish prince did not propose as promptly as he was expected to do; however the young Irish girl was strong in hope that, at the approaching marriage of her sister to her lover, the laggard man would say the necessary word.—This wedding soon took place, and the fair girl, as bridesmaid, leaned on the arm of the prince, who officiated as groomsman. Coming out of the church, the Polish prince sighed heavily, and turning his eyes upon the bridegroom's friend, exclaimed as he pressed the bridesmaid's hand, looked at that moment within his own, 'Poor fellow how I pity him!' 'Why so?' said the lovely bridesmaid, half offended. 'Why, for marrying.—How can a man be such an ass? I, for one, would never marry, if Venus herself, with 50,000 ducats in each pocket, were offered me.' A heavy mass fell upon his arm—the bridesmaid had fainted, and he carried her back to the sacristy, wondering what on earth had taken possession of her just at the last moment, and grinning horribly at the idea of this tardy remembrance of the obligation to that conversational sensibility which bridesmaids are compelled to exhibit.

THE FIRST MEETING OF KOSSUTH AND GARIBALDI.—A correspondent of the New York Times says that these two champions of Hungarian and Italian independence met for the first time at the international dinner given by Consul Sanders, in London, in 1854, to Mr. Buchanan and the European Republican leaders. In the course of the evening, Kossuth's sleep-ness became the theme of eulogy. Rising with modest grace, Kossuth replied, ever elegant and appropriate in the social hour as he is grand and persuasive on public occasions. At the close of his response, he exclaimed, with electric earnestness, "Gentlemen, would you know what I think the most eloquent speech of modern times?" He repeated in huge letters the words: "Soldiers! for the love you bear your country I offer you war, hunger, thirst, cold and death. Who accepts the terms let him follow me! The rest is the orator!" he said, waving his hand towards him, whose intrepid fearlessness now rings through the world. Garibaldi, taken by surprise, was, for a few moments, quite overcome with emotion, but he mastered himself, and made a beautiful and soldierly reply.

Before parting that night, all gathered into a circle once more. Mazzini took the guitar, and striking the chord with the hand of a master, accompanied the thrilling burst of patriotic songs, in which Hungarian, the Russian Republican, Worsell, the Pole, Polisky, Ledru Rollin—all that band of glorious and accomplished spirits, joined with a fervor never to be forgotten by those who witnessed and shared it.

THE MERCANTILE COURSE AT THIS College is the splendid, estimated as the most extensive, thorough, practical and perfect in the United States, and every precaution has been taken, that the qualification of a Book-keeper, in every branch of the most minute particular, it shall, as heretofore, have post-eminently been.

The studies embrace, in the most approved style, the following business books, which with their series constitute transactions as commodious as great expense and labor could make them, and which are invariably adopted in the most extensive and successful Commercial Colleges throughout the United States.

Embodied in the course will be found a complete system of Penmanship which is fast superseding the old order of hand.

NOTA BENE.—The faculty and lecturers attached to this institution are purely practical business men, and eminent lawyers, and the plan of business and exercises, as conducted, must of necessity have acquired the precise practices for every business title.

Students, capable, nor introduction could more powerfully commend an unknown or untried applicant for a situation, to our favor, than a diploma from this excellent institution. Diplomas have been awarded by the Merchants of Milwaukee to Mr. Salom, entire legue, page 38. One of the new large Catalogues should be in every counting house—to insure all time and money to the most possible advantage. A copy will be forwarded free, on application to P. H. The wheat market was at a downright stand to-day, the only sale occurring being 220 bus red winter at 92c. Prices have got down so low that holders are quite indifferent about selling, and under the present aspect of affairs buyers are not disposed to risk much on the chances of a rise or fall. We heard of no offers for No. 1 that came within 5c of sellers' views, of which, probably 60c was the lowest limit. There was a scarcity of extra club and millers offered 75c for this quality. In flour, the only transaction to speak of was a sale of 100 bbls "Magnolia" spring extra on p. t. About a week ago 500 bbls of the same brand sold at $5, so by putting "this and that together," an experienced operator will not, it is likely, be at a loss to know what figures "p. t." represent.

Oats were pretty freely offered at 30c. No sales of corn. A small lot of nice barley sold at 60c, for feed. The first new rye of the season made its appearance on the market to-day, and was offered at 70c, but 64c, we believe, was the highest figure bid for it. The crop is said to be better than it has been for years. Potatoes remain dull. Hides firm. Wool quiet and steady with large receipts, which, however, are mostly for through shipment. Highwines dull.

INSPECTION OF FLOUR.—The Chamber of Commerce have appointed a committee of six of their members to take the subject of appointing a Flour Inspector into consideration. There seems to be a strong feeling in favor of the movement, and we do not doubt but that the committee will also be unanimous in favor of the proposition. The object of having an Inspector is to guard against imposition in weight or quality. As it is at present, dealers buy and sell according to the brand, trusting to the honor of millers for weight and quality, and as more than one of our dealers have got "taken in" slightly by this practice, they propose to have a more reliable basis to do business on hereafter. The inspection system, which will now undoubtedly be adopted, will tend to strengthen the reputation of flour coming from this point in Eastern markets.

CHICAGO, THURSDAY, July 21.—Receipts: 134 bbls flour, 2,039 bus wheat, 17,154 bus corn, 2,545 bus oats, 48 bus barley. Shipments: 1,011 bbls flour, 5,000 bus wheat, 60,957 bus corn.

The news by the steamer caused another panic in the wheat market to-day, which declined 10@15c on new winter, and 5c on spring grades. About 50,000 bushels of all kinds changed hands at $1,11 for extra choice new white winter, (weighing 61 lbs to the measured bushel) 58c for new No. 2 white winter in store; 96c for new No. 1 red on track, and 91@94c for standard spring—closing quiet, with a limited demand for standard at the inside quotation. Flour was more active, but at a decline of 25c on yesterday's prices.—About 700 bbls changed hands at $5,50 for good spring extras, and $5,40 for fancy. The corn market opened at yesterday's prices; but declined 2c under the Liverpool and New York news, with considerable activity. About 60,000 bushels changed hands at 62@62½c for No. 2 in store, and 61@62½c for No. 3. Prices closing quite but firm at the inside quotations. Oats dull and neglected. Rye dull, with sales at 62@70c delivered—closing weak at the lower figures. Nothing doing in barley. Some new barley was offered at 70c, without buyers. Highwines dull and drooping. Hides firm. Wool quiet and unchanged—receipts mostly going through. Freights unchanged. Vessels take corn to Buffalo at 3c, and to Oswego at 3½c.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

GRAND HAVEN PIER.—The Grand Haven News says that the M. R. R. Co. intend expending some $2000 on the construction of the Harbor Pier at that place. The length is to be nine three thousand feet, and is to be located on the south side of the river. Three tiers of piles are to be driven, and on the inside of the piles brush, somewhat after the manner of construction adopted by the Dutchmen in building the pier at the mouth of Black River.

☞ The bark Sunshine, which was capsized in a squall on the 20 inst., has been raised, and was towed into port yesterday morning, by the wrecking tug Relief. The bodies of the mother child of Capt. McNicl, and the cabin boy who was in the forecastle, were not found; they had washed out before she was righted. The raising and refitting of her will probably cost $2,000.

The bark Steward, of which was capsized in the same squall, has also been raised, and was towed into Cleveland last Sunday. The expense of getting her up was only about $1,200.—Buffalo Express, July 21.

ARRIVED TO BARQUE ALLIS.—By a despatch received yesterday from Capt. Farwell, of the barque Hiver, before for Europe, we learn that she was struck by a severe Dunbar storm when sixty miles below Quebec, all her sails were blown away, and she was completely dismasted. She was towed back to Quebec. It was thought it would cost $500 to get her right again so that she can proceed on her voyage. The Alliance was loaded at New Baltimore, in this State, with 110,000 feet of oak plank and 10,000 staves. She is sent out by T. S. Wilson, of that place.—Detroit Tribune.

☞ The following have passed this port since yesterday noon:

Up.—Prop. Northern Light; barque De Soto; schrs. White, Hall, Bowen, S. J. Lathrop, Willington, C. Reeve, Hunsicker, Carrington.

Down.—Props. Plymouth, Iron City; barque Souvenir; brigs Liverpool, J. H. Harmon; schrs. Griswold, Mary B. Hyde, L. B. Shepperd, Challenge, Consuelo and Van Kuse Blade.—Detroit Tribune, July 2.

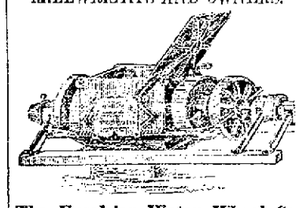
IMPORTANT NOTICE

—TO—

MILLWRIGHTS AND OWNERS.



The Excelsior Water Wheel Co.

ARE MANUFACTURING A NEW KIND of water wheel, patented this day, and 18th December, 1858, by H. Fairchild, of Vermont. It involves an entirely new principle of obtaining power, and of controlling the water, by which we obtain a greater maximum power than is afforded by any other wheel now in use. Some of the advantages of this wheel are—

1st. We obtain the ENTIRE WEIGHT of the water, and have the advantage of the full head and fall, from water to water.

2d. It surpasses all other wheels in velocity and power.

3d. It is perfectly under the control of the workmen, either when used to drive a large or small amount of machinery, as the strength of the wheel is not diminished by the gates, which only open and ponds upon the weight of the column of water below the wheel, which always remains about the same.

4th. It occupies less space than any other wheel—is placed inside the flume, and the whole of the water, and is never affected by frost.

5th. The wheel is very durable, being made of iron, and can be put in at any place, and attached to Saw Mills, Grist Mills, and machinery of all kinds, with less expense than any other wheel. The velocity of the wheel is such that the expense of gearing up is avoided for nearly all purposes.

Together with the advantages above stated, we are ready to warrant the Wheel to possess a power equal to the following figures, for each foot fall of water:

5 inch wheel,	52	100 horse-power.
10¾ "	76	160 "
12 "	100	200 "
13½ "	130	260 "
15 "	155	"
16½ "	166	330 "
18 "	235	390 "
20 "	265	490 "
21 "	333	590 "
24 "	350	700 "
25 "	395	790 "
28 "	525	950 "
30 "	595	1100 "

Wheels of the above sizes can be furnished from 400 to 1000 revolutions per minute. When sold, are complete with gates, shafting, &c., ready for setting. Purchasers only to place it in the flume, which can be done with but expense than any other wheel.

The Company employ competent workmen, who will put them in any place in a workmanlike manner, at reasonable rates. The Wheels can be afforded at a less price than any other wheel now in use.

W. B. STURGESS, Sec'y, Troy, N. Y.

CERTIFICATES.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Dec. 1, 1858.

DEAR SIR—Inasmuch as I have no charge or opinion of the Fairchild Patent Water Wheel, which I put into my factory for use, I take great pleasure in stating that it has given entire satisfaction. I took out a Breast Wheel to feet in diameter, by 9 feet Buckets, and replaced it with one of Fairchild's Patent Wheels, 5 feet 6 inch in diameter, and 9 feet with no greater amount of water, and the motion is as steady as that of a steam engine. It has also the advantage of being under control.

It operates under a 9 feet head and fall, and carries with equal regularity and readiness a greater or less amount of machinery. Being in part engaged in manufacturing of fine grain, whereas an increase of machinery upon my old Wheels would materially lessen the speed.

It is without doubt the best Wheel I have ever used, and my experience in Water Wheels extends over a period of 25 years. Any one interested in Water Wheels will learn enough of its superiority (however great I represent it to be) to induce the calling at my factory and see its performance.

I am, yours, respectf. ly,
EDWARD SAVAGE.

Mr. Savage writes me again under date of Jan. 5th, 1859. The Wheel continues to perform entirely well, and I am more than pleased with it. It has not caused us a moment's delay since you were here.

SHELDON, Franklin Co., Vt., June 29, 1858.

Dear Sir—I have one of Mr. Fairchild's wheels in operation at my Machine Shop, which I can recommend to the public with perfect confidence, as to the passing all the guarantees which are claimed for it. The speed which I can obtain is twice the increase for gates. It gives more power, and runs more steadily than the twelve feet Breast Wheel, which I have heretofore used, requiring less water under the same head and fall.

H. CARLISLE.

Many other testimonials from heavy eastern manufacturers may be seen at my office, where the public are invited to call and examine the Wheel in operation. Orders will be promptly attended to, and if they will at all times be kept on hand to supply the demand. A 5 inch wheel is now running for the Planing Mill and Sash and Blind factory of the manufacture of Sash, Doors and Blinds at the manufactory of M. Kline, Milwaukee, Wis. Any one desiring further information will call at my office, or address me at Troy, N. Y. Satisfactory arrangements have been made for the manufacture of these Machines, and the large profit to purchasers are more than compensated for the small advance in price. Every machine warranted to give satisfaction, or money refunded. We will send a descriptive circular containing full particulars, free of charge, to any address upon receipt of Three Dollars. Every machine warranted. Send for a descriptive circular giving full particulars. Between Buffalo, Milwaukee and Chicago, and the accommodations for the reception, assorting and shipping of all articles entrusted to our care, we are enabled to offer to shippers a line of transportation unsurpassed in its thoroughness, and will give this personal attention to the fulfillment of contracts, adjustment of claims and damages, as to warrant public confidence in our business. Our boats are fitted up for the accommodation of passengers, and they can rely on greater despatch and at less rates than has heretofore been given. We solicit a share of the public patronage, which has so liberally bestowed upon us during the last four years.

CONTRACTS for Freight will be made on application at the Office of the Company.
